Five hundred years ago in Mexico, Our Lady of Guadalupe appeared to a Christian peasant, Juan Diego, asking him to stop Mexico's pagan human sacrifices and build a church on Mt Tepeyac. In an era where thousands of innocent lives were being sacrificed to appease the sun-god, Our Lady asked that a Church be built on the site and that all human sacrifices be stopped.

This musical portrays the events of a modern day family on the crossroads of a crisis and jumps back in time to Mexico to parallel the life of Juan Diego and his wife, Maria. The story of the conversion of Mexico into a fervent Christian community and the cessation of sacrificing young, innocent lives on the altar has a powerful resonance with our society today.

This heart-warming musical moves between the story of Diego and that of a modern day family as it deals with the challenges of faith, hope and life. Come and enjoy the pageantry, the music and God's wonderful message of love and the sanctity of life.
